

no

why shut up if you could raise your voice?
why give in if you could get your way?
why do the same if you've got a choice?
why leave me here if you could just stay?

why bend down if you could stand tall?
why be gloomy in the light of day?
why just shrug if you could show them all?

why, my friend, do you have to go?
why say yes if you could say no?
