

No

No, to the things that I don't want to do
No, to the people that annoy me and you
No, to any homo- or bisexual hater
No, to the people who want to protest just later
No, to pollution and fuel wasting cars
No, to suffering and no, to wars
No, to hunger and starvation
No, to the poverty in a third world nation
No, to everybody who minds one's race
And when it's different they don't look at your face
No, to this world of prejudice and hate
No, to those who watch it until it's too late.
