

no to the little devil on my shoulder who tries to take over control no to the angel on the other side who's keen on improving my soul no to the manipulation and also the mind control through TV no to all those who tell us what to believe in or to be no to the things we do and say even though we know they're wrong and no to believing everyone's against me and that I am all alone

no to the discrimination of cultures we just don't understand no to wondering why we should care about problems in a far-away land no to messing up the world we live in with murder and crime no to saying we would help if we could find the time no to always thinking that the most important word is "ME"
'cause it rather should be "NO"
- NO to world war three.
