

NO

No to those who don't dare to say their opinion.

No to not letting me make my own decisions.

No to not letting me do my own mistakes.

No to always saying no.

No to those who give me that feeling of being too young or too stupid to understand something.

No to those who think to know everything better than me.

No to not believing in me.

No to that feeling of being unable to say something.

No to never saying yes.
